

Mayor's Earth Day Neighborhood Cleanup Scheduled for this Saturday, April 23

Mayor Geoffrey Szymanski and the members of the Lackawanna City Council are announcing that this Saturday will be the annual neighborhood cleanup, in conjunction with Earth Day 2016.

"Since being elected mayor, every year we have an annual cleanup for our city, where like-minded residents meet together for the purpose of a city-wide neighborhood cleanup. This year it is set for this Saturday. Good thing I didn't rush into making this decision earlier because the weather was unseasonably cold", Mayor Szymanski declares.

"The elected officials are inviting all residents to help out and clean a particular part of the city; resident's choice. It is good time with a 'feel good' attitude".

Children are encouraged to attend, however they must be supervised...the city will not act as baby-sitters.

Interested residents should meet up at the Lackawanna Veteran's Stadium on South Park Ave. at 8:45 a.m. on Saturday, April 23rd. Cleanup begins at 9 a.m. until 11:30 a.m. Wear clothing that you're not afraid to get dirty and bring an Earth Day positive attitude! This event always turns out to be fun with plenty of stories to be told after. Light refreshments will be served upon completion.
